ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS A YEAR IN ADVANCE

MOONSHINER KILLS ANOTHER MOONSHINER

Too often the victims of the moonshiner are innocent ones. Men are ruined body and soul and women and children suffer from the making of the devilish brew.

On Tuesday night Lou Ramsey, of LaFollette, Tenn., was shot and killed by Theo Smith of the same place on a farm jointly owned by Walter Miller and Coleman Gamble. The still was about 100 to 150 yards from the houses of the renters. Three bullets entered the abdomen of Ramsey who lived four hours. All he said was, "I am killed."

There was one witness to the killing, a woman with whom Ramsey is said to have had relations that led to a break with his wife who left him about a week ago. Smith and his wife, as did Ramsey, lived with Walter Miller. The farm is on Moore Creek, near Elys. Since their arrival on the scene the two men are alleged to have devoted themselves to making moonshine.

Smith is said to have taken to the mountains and deputies have gone to the scene to try to capture him.

The county had to furnish the burial out as the widow is said to have no funds.

Here is another evidence of the viciousness of the bootlegger-moonshiner, who, plying the devil's business, becomes so saturated with wickedness that he will wipe out the mysterious thing we call life in pursuit of his aims.

Harris Davis and son Pascal went out Wednesday and found and destroyed the still but the murderer had skipped.

BUILDING NOTES

It has long been a source of worry that more houses were not being built which has been due in a large degree to the high price of materials. However, prices have dropped considerably and we can announce that a number of buildings are to go up shortly.

Bert Churchill is now putting in a sleeping porch and a brick mantel for James R. Tuggle. It is also reported that Mr. Tuggle will build another house probably of brick about the first of June.

J. E. Archer is putting in a brick mantel at his new home on Pitzer Street. Mr. Archer also contemplates building another home beside this one.

S. N. Miller will build a brick veneer opposite the Minton residence on River Street.

The Barbourville Supply Co. will erect a warehouse at the Water Station.

Hugh T. Miller will shortly build a home.

Mrs. Sarah Hughes is having the material moved from the Baptist Church from which she expects to construct at least two bungalows.

H. M. Oldfield will build a home this season on the site of his present residence.

Dr. W. C. Black also expects to build a home on his fine lot on Depot Street.

CIRCUIT COURT NOTES

For the last week the time of the Court has been occupied largely with the trial of common law and equity cases.

Last Monday was the time to which the grand jury had adjourned over. They reconvened on that day and vigorously took up the unfinished business and are returning a goodly number of indictments against moonshiners, bootleggers, lie swears and other violators.

There is no question that if the grand juries hereafter follow out and keep up the work that the present one is doing moonshiners and bootleggers will have to go out of business.

It is proverbial that men knowing about the violations of the liquor law will in many instances undertake to falsely swear in order to protect them. Judge Rose instructed the grand jury Monday that in every instance where a witness before the grand jury swore falsely in failing to tell about the violations of the law of which he knew or to protect his bootlegging or moonshining friend or any other criminal, to indict the man for false swearing and not to fail to do it and the grand jury is acting on that instruction and going after the criminals.

The County Attorney, James S. Golden, in helping Judge Rose to unearth violations of the liquor law last week has done some valiant service.

Many men who refuse to tell the names of bootleggers from whom they get liquor have been sent to jail until they did tell and that has had a very salutary effect.

The way of the transgressor is certainly hard and will be harder. Better quit it NOW!

CHAUTAUQUA

Mr. A. M. Dyecker,
Barbourville, Ky.

Dear Sir:

We have now completed the routing of our circuit and wish to announce that the definite opening date of the Barbourville Chautauqua is June 17th.

The tickets have already been sent to you and we are now getting out the advertising material. A complete write-up of the program will soon be off the press and we shall take pleasure in sending a copy to you.

Very truly yours,

REDBATH CHAUTAUQUAS

BASEBALL

Last week was a hoodoo in local circles. B. H. S. lost to Harlan 10 to 7 Friday and to Middlesboro at Middlesboro Saturday, 10 to 7. Middlesboro quit in the 7th inning because their Boosters had to play later with Jonesboro, Va., whom they defeated 4 to 2. The local boys feel that they might have won this game if it had been played to a conclusion.

On the way up Charlie lost a new tile which was added cause of grief as well as hilarity, and Mrs. Goebel Haun fainted while the game was in progress and had to be taken to the hospital where she made a complete recovery.

Richmond played Union Friday and used Bellou as pitcher besides others who are out of the class of the home boys. They put up a magnificent fight but finally lost thru errors.

On Saturday they went to defeat before the doughboys of the American Legion of Berea, the score being 11 to 3. As they were playing men the result was good but errors contributed to their defeat.

TUESDAY CLUB

Mrs. James R. Tuggle was hostess for the Tuesday Club at her home on High Street Tuesday afternoon, April 19th. After roll call and a brief business session Mrs. John W. Hughes, assisted by Mrs. H. H. Owens and Mrs. James S. Miller, had charge of the literary program which proved to be most interesting being a description of the cities and countries from England to Australia by aeroplane. Several pictures photographed from thousands of feet above were exhibited from the March Geographic Magazine. Mrs. Tuggle passed a number of postal cards with scenes of various towns along the aeroplane route which were sent by her son Richard while on duty in the United States Navy.

The Club members are enjoying this year's work, as the subjects selected by the leaders are up-to-date each program having been made up of papers and discussions concerning topics of wide interest.

During the social hour the hostess served delicious ices, cakes and mints.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Edward Faulkner, on Main Street. The subject will be "My Old Kentucky Home Drive."

VICTORY MEDAL

The War Department has given the Victory Medal Department at Room 510 Post Office Building, Louisville, Ky., the responsibility of distributing 85,000 Victory Medals to ex-service men of the World War, in the State of Kentucky. To date the Department has distributed only about 15,000, and the War Department has requested that we secure the co-operation of the Kentucky press in announcing the issue of the Medal, in order that the ex-service men may secure their Medals as soon as possible. Therefore, we shall appreciate any publicity you may give us.

The Medal is for service either in France or the United States. Those who engaged in battles or in the occupation of a Defensive Sector are given, attached to the Medal, clasps bearing the name of the battles or Defensive Sector; those serving in a foreign country but not participating in any battles, a clasp with the name of the country, and those serving only in the United States, the Victory Medal without clasp. To secure the Medal it is only necessary for the ex-service man to present his discharge or an extract prepared on form for that purpose, to the Victory Medal officer and sign an application. The Medal will be mailed to him from Philadelphia. In all cases the discharge or extract will be returned to the applicant.

Blank forms and information may be secured by writing the above office.

GET YOUR MILITARY TRAINING AT HOME

You can get your military training at home with pay. A Rifle Company of the Kentucky National Guard for Knox County will be mustered into service at Barbourville Court House at 7 p. m. Wednesday, May 4th. Vacancies for about ten good men still open.

Men desiring to become members will see either Ben C. Herndon or R. H. Newitt at once for particulars. There will be a fifteen days trip to Camp Knox in August with full pay and expenses.

The public is urged to be present at the Court House on May 4th to hear prominent speakers from Frankfort and elsewhere who will outline the policy of the National Guard.

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN

Frankfort, Ky.—Kentucky's 1921 quota of National Guardsmen is rapidly being filled, according to announcement here by Adj. Gen. Jackson Morris. Three infantry companies will be mustered into the service within the next two weeks and at least one other infantry company, a hospital company, a howitzer company, and a cavalry troop are expected to be formed soon. Efforts are being made to complete the quota before the encampment at Camp Knox starts.

Work is under way on a hospital company at Winchester and a 37-millimeter howitzer company at Corbin.

Rifle companies at Livermore and Booneville will be mustered into the service on April 30 by representatives of the United States Army and the adjutant general's staff. Lieut. Col. Charles Morrow, U. S. A., and Maj. Wilder, of Gen. Morris' staff, will go to Booneville and Lieut. Col. Reed, U. S. A., and Maj. T. W. Woodward, of the adjutant general's office, will go to Livermore.

A rifle company at Barbourville will be mustered in on May 3. An application has been received from Springfield for an infantry company and the adjutant general expects to muster it in within the next few weeks. The proposed cavalry troop at Lexington, on which work is now proceeding, was made possible, according to the adjutant general, by the mustering out a week ago of a troop at Manchester. The Manchester troop could not get an armory, the Fiscal Court, it was said, refused to back the plan. For this reason it was disbanded. —Louisville Herald.

The mustering in of the Barbourville troop will take place at the Circuit room May 4th, at 6:30 p. m. Those who desire to join are urged to be present and bring a buddy.

REWARD

A reward of $325.00 is offered for the arrest of George (Dad) Hammons, wanted for the murder of Millard Hibbard, at Locust Grove Church, Saturday night, Feb. 19th, 1921.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Quotation from address delivered by Hon. J. B. Snyder at Commencement of Barbourville High School, April 22nd, 1921.

Woman Suffrage is an important subject, of which many educated people are woefully ignorant. Many hailed this most recent movement with joy and acclaim, while others looked upon it with horror and disdain. It matters not whether you or I believe in Woman Suffrage, because it is here to stay, so what will we do with it? Are we going to study it and make the best of it? Or will we act the part of the anarchist, who says, "I do not believe in Government?" It matters not whether he believes in Government. We have Government, we study it and we make the best of it. So it behooves both men and women to throw aside their prejudices against Woman Suffrage, and begin to make a study of it, develop it and employ it as the greatest agency for moral uplift this country has ever seen. Some woman may say she does not believe in Woman Suffrage and will not vote. For her we have no harsh words, because for centuries women have been taught that they have no governmental rights, until this belief with some has become second nature. We cannot overturn a sentiment of centuries standing in the space of a day. It takes education and training of the older as well as the younger, that Woman Suffrage is the greatest institution of the age, because it brings woman out of obscurity into the place and station of life that her intellect, perseverance and industry best her.

There is a wide difference in the terms suffrage and suffragette. The suffragette is a being, pestiferous tho they may have been, they have been made the vehicle of many a pointed joke by the men, and I am inclined to believe that this is one of the things which has made sensitive women oppose the ballot for women. On the whole the suffragette was not destined to bring any good to woman's cause, while on the other hand woman suffrage is a great institution which, together with Civil Government and Political Economy will some day become one of the departments of our public schools. —Political Advt.
